Office Action Summary

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 2, 5-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Zweigle.

Zweigle teaches an aqueous dispersion of ethyl cellulose (abstract). Water as low as about 20% is specified (col. 2 lines 15-18). P¹uronic F-38 and castor oil are specified₁ (col. 6, lines 37, 58 respectively).

Applicants argue that Zweigle teaches away for the claimed composition. However, applicants cite to the background of the patent, which refers to a method of dispersing a polysaccharide involving labor and energy. Zweigle overcomes the problem by grinding the polysaccharide (column 2 lines 6-18) rather than by using plural organic solvents. Applicants also argue that Zweigle does not teach a single organic solvent. However, the example in Zweigle (relevant lines in column 6 cited above) does so teach.

No claims allowed.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
